official, George Buglewicz, who died last July in 1997. This reads: Whereas, George Buglewicz was born on February 18, Omaha, Nebraska, in 1923, and whereas, George Buglewicz was an Omaha High School graduate. George Buglewicz served in the United States Air Corps from '42 to '45 when he was called back into the Korean War in '50 to '52. He worked in sales in the private sector in the carrier...motor carrier industry. He was a dedicated family person. He married Blanche and they had eight kids and 16 grandchildren. Whereas, George served his community and a member of many civic organizations as a county official. First elected to the Douglas County Board in 1966 and was reelected in '70, '74, and '78. He was elected to the County Register of Deeds in 1984 and was reelected again in 1988 and '92. He was never defeated when he ran for office. He'll be remembered for his accomplishments in the areas of community service, for individuals with mental retardation, for his county corrections responsibilities and the computerization of county services. This resolution calls for us to extend its condolences and sympathy to the family of the late George, and a copy of this to be sent to his widow, Blanche, and to his family. And I'd like to say this also, it's an important little reflection. I'm not a well-read man, but a long time ago back in the fifties when George and I were in the army, over 50 years ago, I did read a little because we didn't have television and radios at that time in the places we were. I read a book by an author by the name of George C. Douglas, and I remembered it because of the mission of that story in that book. Somebody asked the main character in this particular book, who had dedicated his life to helping people and doing things and not worrying about himself or his own image, why he would never accept any tribute or honor or why he never talked about himself so that people would remember, in case they didn't, how good a person he was. And he simply said, you know, if I took advantage of that and if I expected people to know that, then all the good I've done would have all been used up. I think right now that's something for a lot of us to remember. I ask for your support for this resolution.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Lynch. Is there any discussion? Seeing none. Senator Lynch, do you wish to close? Closing is waived. The question before you is the adoption of LR 316. All those in favor vote aye, all those opposed vote
